

The BOOGERS
are coming

Dotty heard a story.

She wants to share the news.

'The boogers are coming!'

She tells her friends.

'But I know what to do!'

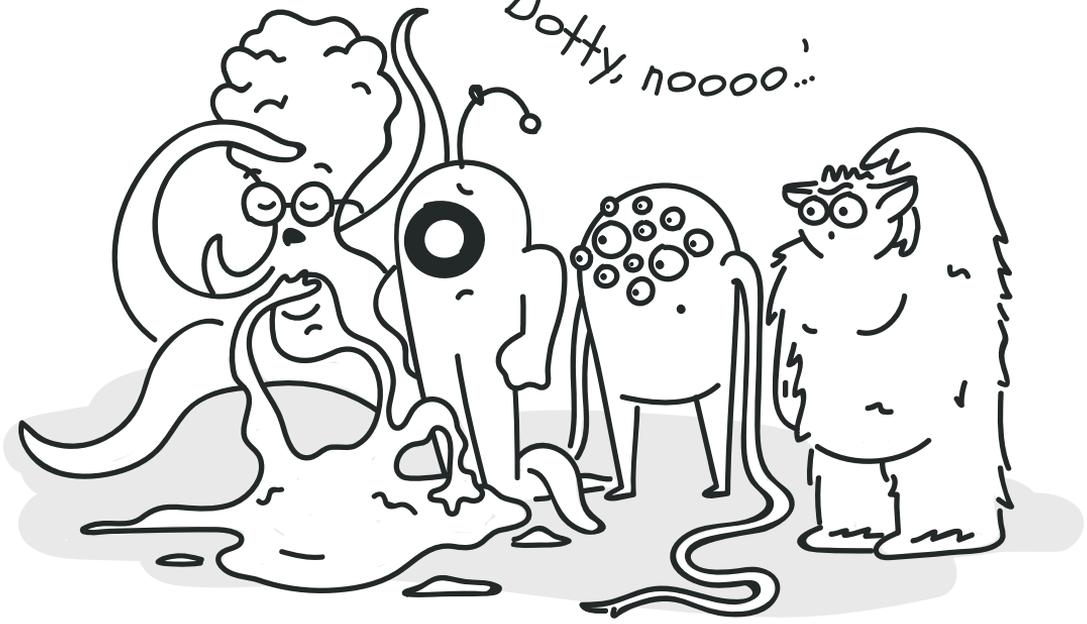

'If you need to sneeze,' she says,

'sneeze into a marshmallow.'

'Doooh, Dotty, nooooo!'

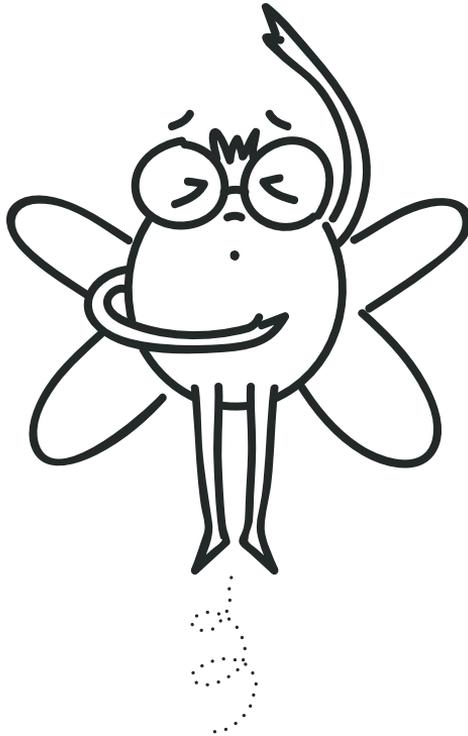

her friends explain...

'You sneeze into your elbow.'

'Before you eat your lunch,' she says,

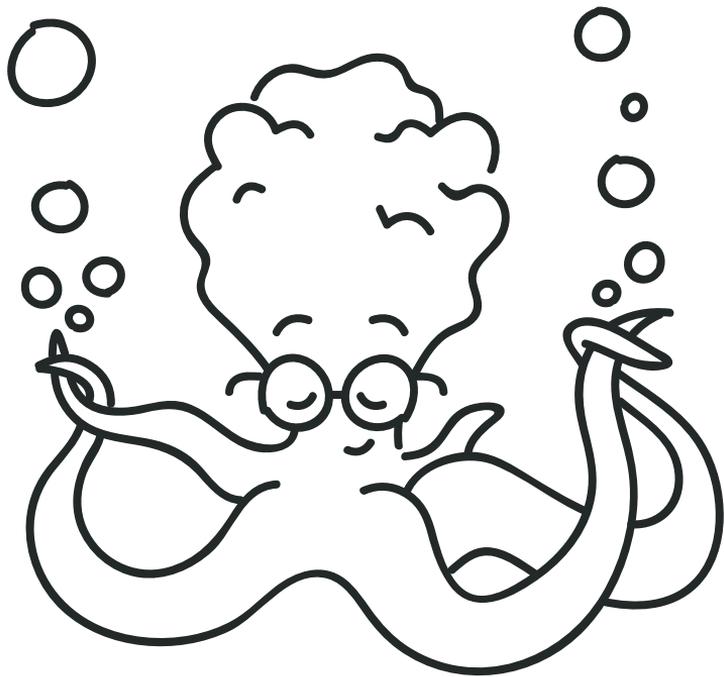

'you've got to do a dance.'

'Doooh, Dotty, nooooo...'

her friends explain...

'You've got to wash your hands.'

'If you have a cough,' she says,

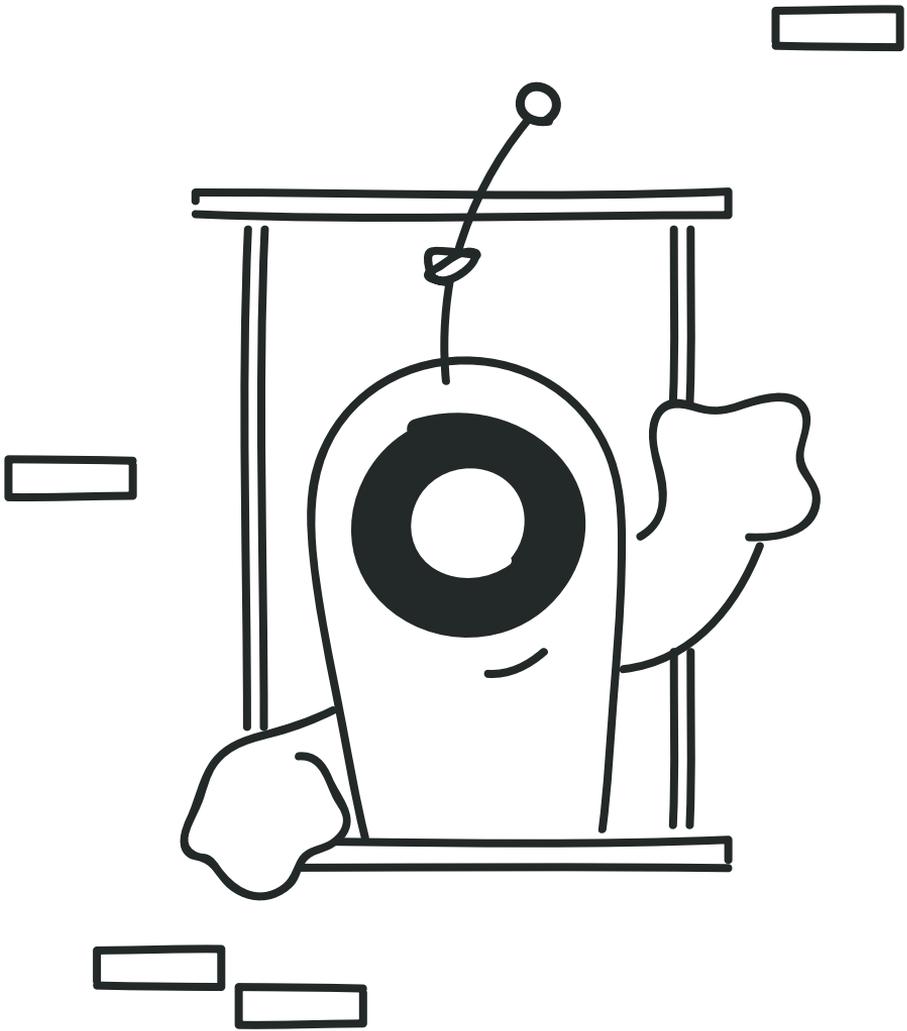

'go kiss a garden gnome.'

'Doooh, Dotty, nooooo!'

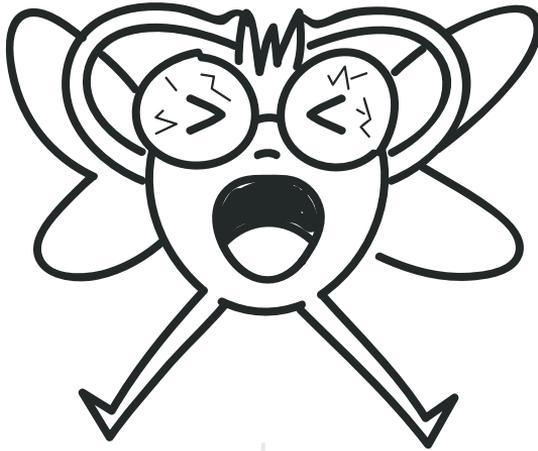

her friends explain...

'You've got to stay home.'

'When you're feeling scared,' she says,

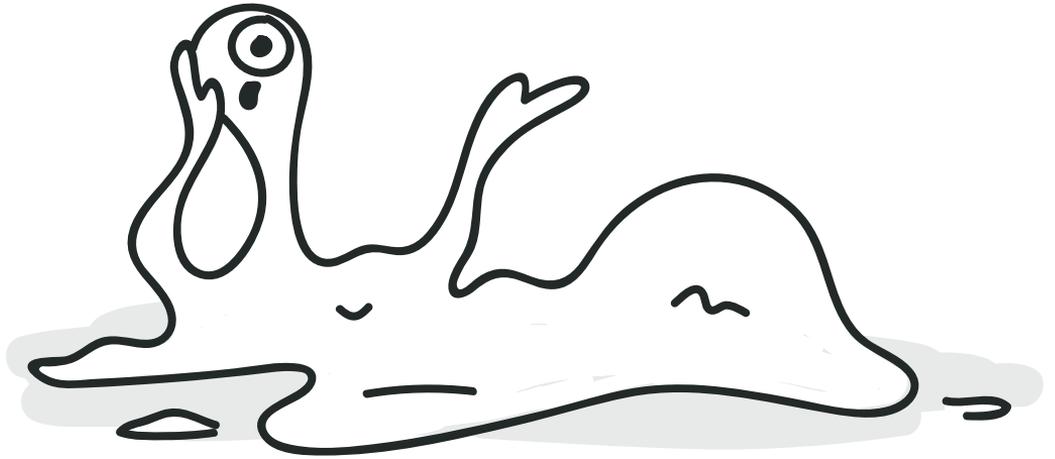

'you've got to scream and shout!'

'Doooh, Dotty, nooooo!'

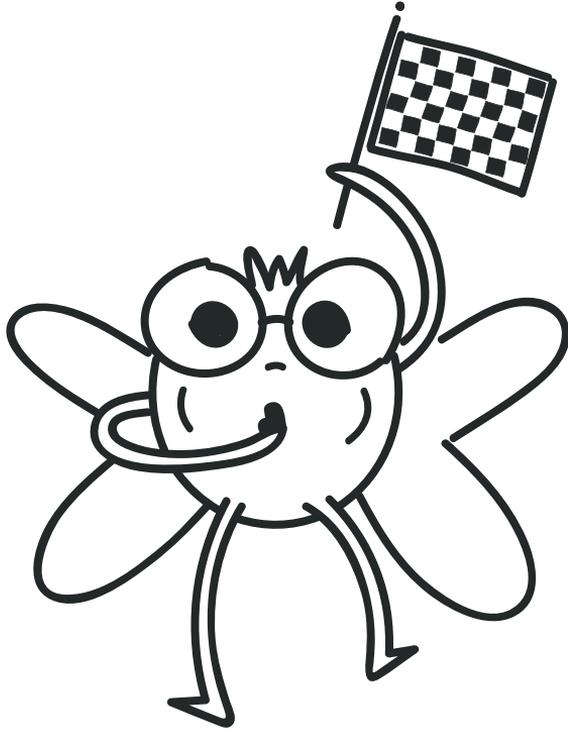

her friends explain...

'You've got to talk it out.'

'When you're near your friends,' she says,

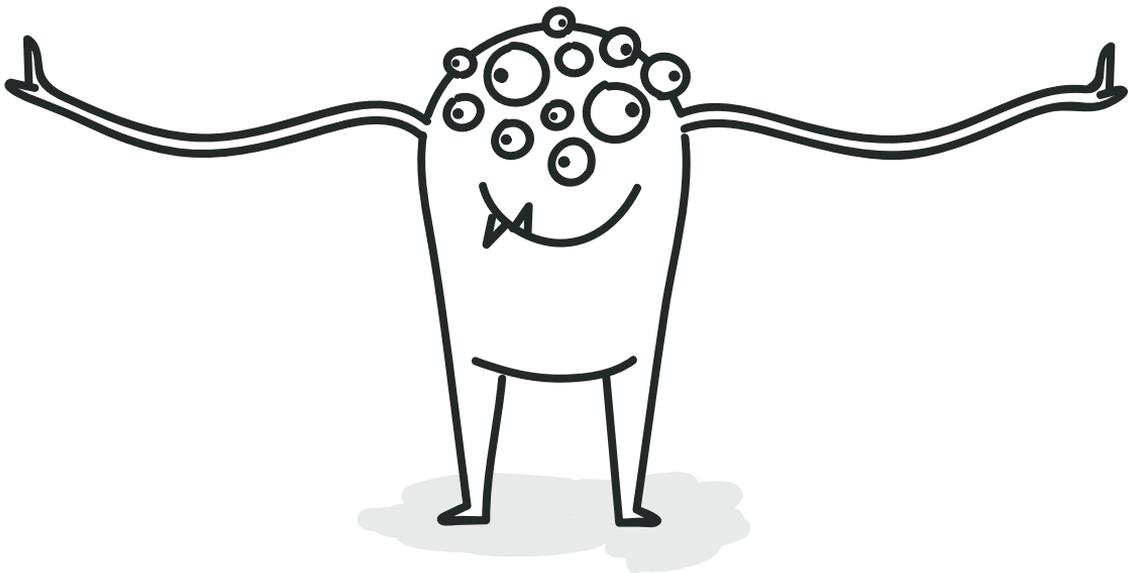

'line up and have a race.'

'Doooh, Dotty, nooooo...'

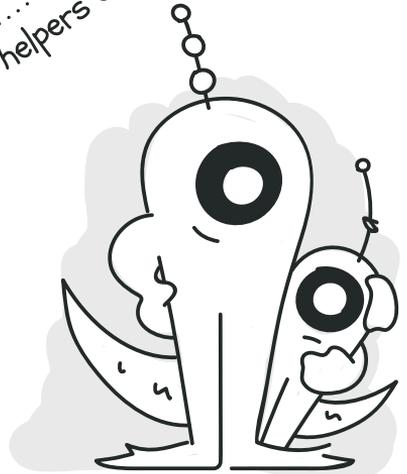

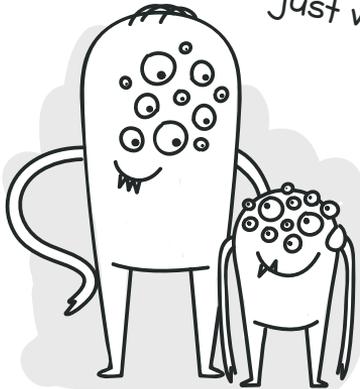

her friends explain...

'You've got to give them space.'

The grown ups know just what to do. There's helpers everywhere.

We're all in this together. So be kind and show you care.

Every Australian child care centre, all in one place. For more child care news, tips and support visit toddle.com.au/blog